THE ANNUAL FEINBERG AWARD

The Walt Whitman Quarterly Review announces the establishment of the FEINBERG AWARD, to be given annually to the author of the best essay published in WWQR during the year. The award honors Mr. Charles E. Feinberg, the distinguished bibliophile and friend of Whitman scholars, whose work has initiated and energized much of the Whitman scholarship of this century.

EDITOR'S NOTE

When the Walt Whitman Review ceased publication in 1982, many essays that had been accepted for publication there were suddenly left without a journal to appear in. In an effort to serve the authors of these pieces, and to serve the community of scholars interested in Whitman, WWQR has been printing, during its first year of publication, some of those essays along with essays accepted specifically for WWQR. Other essays originally scheduled to appear in the Walt Whitman Review will eventually appear in other Whitman journals. We devote this issue of WWQR to printing essays and notes remaining from the backlog of pieces accepted for publication in the Walt Whitman Review. Beginning with our next issue, all essays and notes published in this journal will have been submitted to and evaluated by the editorial staff of WWQR.

And while we are on the topic of the Walt Whitman Review, we would like to remind readers that WWQR has on hand a supply of back issues of that journal: a large supply of volume 1 (1955), very limited supplies of most issues of volumes 2-17 (1956-1970), and larger supplies of most issues of volumes 18-28 (1971-1982). We will be glad to furnish back issues as a service to subscribers and libraries at a cost of $2.50 per issue (includes postage), as long as supplies last. We also have limited supplies of several special issues of the Walt Whitman Review: Walt Whitman In Our Time (with essays by Roy Basler, William Meredith, Edwin Haviland Miller, and James E. Miller, Jr.), Walt Whitman in Europe Today (edited by Roger Asselineau and William White), and The Bicentennial Walt Whitman (with essays by Gay Wilson Allen, Harold Aspiz, Harold W. Blodgett, Jerome Loving, and others). Those special publications are available for $4.00 each, as long as supplies last. Address all orders to WWQR, 308 EPB, The University of Iowa, Iowa City, IA 52242.
