Hey, buddy! Remember where we were 2 years ago today?
When Prussianism stripped off its mask of decency and rushed madly forward to batter down the bulwarks of civilization, the powers of right quickly allied themselves, grappled with the brutal thing and crushed out its life.

And now the cigarette! It too, is known at last for what it really is—a vile, infectious poison which impairs health, impairs progress and dwarfs manhood. Like a deadly blight it spreads among youth—boys and girls—stifling their hopes and blocking their way to achievement; like a firebrand, it is searing their vitality and energy.

Parents—will you stand idly by, wishing the cigarette were out of the reach of your boy or girl—but lacking the moral courage to remove it? Which will you heed, the frantic tirade of selfish tobacco interests or the gentler appeal of innocent youth, yet untouched by the blighting poison of the cigarette?

The fight is on—NOW. This crucial hour is at hand. In the name of Utah's young manhood and womanhood, voice your sovereign will to keep your invaliding body what it should be. Help them to make of Senate Bill No. 12.

Run the cigarette and save the youth of Utah.

GONE ARE THE DAYS OF YORE.

Thou shalt not attend amusements on the Sabbath.

He chewed Virginia leaf.

He smoked cigarettes.

You are charged with cooking onions and garlic in a play.

Farewell, fellow! You will soon go too.

Hunt 50 or pie.

Thou shalt do only that which is prescribed by law.
This may happen some day

According to "The Tobacco Leaf," anti-cigarette-bills are pending in the legislatures of 30 states. Those who were instrumental in having liquor prohibited are now fighting tobacco. In several states it is a misdemeanor to smoke cigarettes or to sell them. The New York Evening Telegram, in the above cartoon, describes what may happen.
"You fellers needn't feel so all-fired cocky; they'll be after you next."
