Research Problem:

[Text about research problem]

Restoring Sound to the Stacks:
The American Library as Music Space in the Great Depression
Kathryn Lawson

Spotlight: Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge
- Philanthropist and supporter of the arts
- Collaborated with the Library of Congress
- Supplied the arts with instrumental music
- Designed the Qua Auditorium (built in 1936) to house radio equipment to broadcast music

Ways of Listening & Library Programming
As models of musical listening diversified beyond the live concert and recorded music, libraries expanded their offerings in the era of radio and Victrola concerts.

Libraries & Alternative Music Programming

Library Philosophies & Performance Space

Methodology & Sources
- U.S. Newspapers Articles (1890-1939)
- A Library of Music (1924-1934)
- Multiple other sources

Data Set
- 151 library concerts
- Library of Congress
- Library of Music
- Multiple other sources

References
[List of references]

[Image of library plans and diagrams]