-------------------

President Obama will again postpone a planned trip to Australia and Indonesia, the White House announced Friday morning. The trip was put off in February as Obama worked to push health-care legislation through Congress. It was rescheduled for later this month, but now the president is focusing on the Gulf Coast oil disaster.

Search term: obama indonesia I could not get an and-or, as in Obama and (Indonesia OR Australia) to work. After a considerable scratching around it looks like this combination is working pretty well. I cannot be sure how many tweets only mentioning Australia exist. But this is getting a lot of action. There is a lot of not English in the messages. So I cannot be sure what they are saying.

First search found 1500 messages. All of them were after the time the breaking news became known. So it is getting action.
