Establishing Guidelines
Gathering Information

General Questions
- Does your library use YouTube or another product to host video tutorials?
- Do you have any policies/procedures related to this issue?

Specific Questions
- What is the added value of using YouTube?
- What are the complications of using YouTube?
- What is the added value of Vimeo?
- What are its drawbacks?
Tutorial Creation Checklist

- 5 minutes or less
- Use UI Libraries opening & closing screens
- Text callouts/close captioning when possible
- Incorporate quizzes or interactive features
- Adhere to UI Libraries standards for tutorial creation

Guidelines for Posting Video Tutorials on YouTube

• When YouTube is appropriate
  ◦ Produce in high quality Windows Media Video or similar format to ensure greatest video quality experience
  ◦ Videos posted to official YouTube account for specific UI Library
  ◦ Include captioning

• Consider alternate formats for interactive features
  ◦ Flash
  ◦ HTML5
  ◦ Online quiz

Challenges

- Guidelines versus Policies
- Establishing these guidelines took time
- Get staff involved
- Remind staff that these guidelines exist and why
- Working with outside groups
What is YouTube?

History
- Around since February of 2005 (First video up in April of 2005)
- Owned by Google since October 2006

Current Functionality
- Hosts videos up to 15 minutes in length (or 2GB)
- Allows captioning
- Has a mobile site (and works on iOS devices)
- Allows for videos up to 1080p HD
Benefits of YouTube for Hosting

• Works on mobile devices where Flash wouldn’t work
• Usage statistics
• Multiple sharing options
• Well-known/greater visibility
Potential Drawbacks for YouTube

• Some organizations may block YouTube
  • E.g. hospitals
• Requires extra work (uploading, tagging, account management)
• Specific requirements for videos
• Link management
  • Updated videos will not retain the original URL
    • must be different enough that YouTube doesn’t see them as a duplicate effort
• Could be unsavory videos listed as recommendations

Getting Started

• Create an account
  • Do NOT link your personal email to your library’s YouTube account.
• Check out YouTube Essentials
Creating Videos

• Design your video
  • ADDIE
  • Time Limits
  • Scripting
• Choose a recording option that will suit your needs.
• Edit and produce your video if necessary

• NOTE: Higher quality videos are best!
Captioning

- Does your recording program provide options for captioning?
  - Yes! – Might be easier to use than YouTube.
  - No! – YouTube has two options
    - Attach a file containing the captions
    - Let YouTube caption the video for you
      - You don’t have to do anything for this, but accuracy is a consideration.
Uploading and Privacy

Uploading
• Log into your library’s YouTube account
• Click the “Upload link” near the top of the screen.

Privacy Options
• Privately – Only people with the link can see it.
• Publicly – People can search for it or stumble across it on accident
• Turn Comments on or off.
• Turn stats on or off
Sharing Options

- Embed on webpages or LibGuides
- Link to YouTube Channel or individual videos
- AutoShare with Twitter, FaceBook or Orkut

Other Uses for YouTube

- Hosting videos for courses
- Library Events (speakers, History of Medicine of Lectures, etc.)
- Promos for your library
- Videos of your pets and children
YouTube Is Not Your Only Option
VIMEO

- Similar to YouTube.
- HTML5 compliant since August 2010.
- Limited to 500mb (not time)
- Several account options
  - Basic – Free
  - Plus - $60 a year or $10 a month
  - Pro – for businesses and commercial videos
Reasons to Consider

- May not be blocked by organizations that block YouTube

Possible Drawbacks

- May not work well in WordPress
- Not as well known as YouTube
Hosting on Library Website
Reasons to Consider

• Can use Flash files with interactive quizzes
• No additional accounts and passwords to remember

Possible Drawbacks

• Need lots of server space for videos
• May need to work with IT to get videos posted, removed, updated
• Harder to embed
