

1974

Estoy En Larga Espera

Theresa Moritz

Albert Frank Moritz

Carlos Prospero

Follow this and additional works at: <https://ir.uiowa.edu/iowareview>

Part of the Creative Writing Commons

Recommended Citation

Moritz, Theresa; Albert Frank Moritz; and Carlos Prospero. "Estoy En Larga Espera." The Iowa Review 5.2 (1974): 22-22. Web.
Available at: <https://doi.org/10.17077/0021-065X.1723>

This Contents is brought to you for free and open access by Iowa Research Online. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Iowa Review by an authorized administrator of Iowa Research Online. For more information, please contact lib-ir@uiowa.edu.

“ESTOY EN LARGA ESPERA”

While I am enduring the long wait
seated at a round table
my wife washes a tub
you can hear the sound of oil in the frying pan,
my wife washes the tub.

While I am enduring the long wait
my wife mops the floor and also washes clothes and today is Sunday.

The president of the republic of Chile was here yesterday on a visit to the city while we looked at the budget of the man who will put curtains in our house.

There were displays in the papers and the crowd threw confetti
while the two presidents passed in a car;

and also, there on the flat roofs
a guard of soldiers armed to the teeth.

My wife washes clothes; and talks.
And she shapes the word with her mouth that also talks about Hamlet and Horatio and tells me that she didn't get Ernesto's address.

While this long wait lasts,
Sunday mornings
boys, little children, girls, in military training and in every part of the city

in every car, at every hour, soldiers, soldiers and machine guns.

Translated from the Spanish by Theresa and Albert Frank Moritz