

1981

Künc Constantin der Gap sô Vil

Walther von der Vogelweide

Follow this and additional works at: <https://ir.uiowa.edu/iowareview>

Part of the Creative Writing Commons

---

Recommended Citation

von der Vogelweide, Walther. "Künc Constantin der Gap sô Vil." The Iowa Review 12.1 (1981): 49-49. Web.
Available at: <https://doi.org/10.17077/0021-065X.2823>

This Contents is brought to you for free and open access by Iowa Research Online. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Iowa Review by an authorized administrator of Iowa Research Online. For more information, please contact lib-ir@uiowa.edu.

Künc Constantin der Gap sô Vil
Walther von der Vogelweide

King Constantine, as I will relate,
Bestowed a whole lot on the Holy See.
Arms, cross, and crown—
At which the angel cried aloud:
“Woe, woe, and a third time woe!
Christendom once lived according to the Golden Rule.
Now poison has entered the system,
Turning its honey to gall.
The world will live to rue it bitterly.”
All the princes are held in high esteem,
While their overlord is humiliated,
And this due to the prelates’ decision.
O God, what a mess.
The prelates want to twist secular law.
The angel was talking truth.

(from the Middle High German, ca. 1939-1943)