DADA No. 14

Surrealism
At the age of fifteen, Beatrice Wood defied her Victorian mother to live the bohemian life of an artist and actress in France. By the time she was twenty-two, she was at the center of the New York Dada art circle and romantically involved with artist Marcel Duchamp and French author Henri-Pierre Roché. Now ninety-two years old and one of America’s pioneer ceramic artists, Beatrice Wood tells the story of her revolutionary and liberated life in this illustrated autobiography, and shares personal recollections of such luminaries as Isadora Duncan, Edna St. Vincent Millay, Constantin Brancusi, Krishnamurti, Anaïs Nin and many others. An illuminating, candid—and frequently shocking—look at an artist and woman who is indeed a national treasure.

208 pages with art and rare photos. Quality paperback $22.50; clothbound $45. Limited edition, signed clothbound $130; special signed edition including an original artwork $375.

A journal sponsored by the Association for the Study of Dada and Surrealism, published and distributed by The University of Iowa. Dada/Surrealism invites a wide range of approaches to the verbal and visual productions of the two movements seen in their least limited senses as historical and living phenomena. We are especially receptive to manuscripts that use interdisciplinary techniques, reexamine basic concepts, or raise theoretical issues of contemporary interest. Each issue is organized around a special topic, and contains an updated, comprehensive bibliography on Dada and Surrealism in art and literature.
