Modelling Participatory Design in Digital Humanities Pedagogy and Research

Hannah Scates Kettler
University of Iowa

Joyce Tsai
University of Iowa

Matthew T. Butler
University of Iowa

Please see article for additional authors.
Modeling Participatory Design in Digital Humanities Pedagogy and Research

Joyce Tsai
Hannah Scates Kettler
Matthew Butler
Lindley Warren
Theresa Hercher
Paul Schmitt
The Studio - Then and Now

The Studio for Public Arts & Humanities
Digital Research and Publishing

The Studio for Public Arts & Humanities and Digital Research Scholarship and Publishing
The Digital Scholarship & Publishing Studio (The Studio)
What we do

Data Visualization
Digital Publishing
GIS & Mapping
3D Modeling
Application Development

Digital Editions
Iowa Digital Library
Iowa Research Online
DIY History
University of Iowa Tractatus Map
Archives Alive! / DIY History

[Handwritten text]

Writer said, "Lucy didn't say she'd never do it at all. In the fall I saw the book and thought she'd never do it. Then I saw her in the fall; she didn't do it. She was just too busy."
Pedagogical Partners

- Tool building for classroom use
- Applications/projects tailored to faculty teaching
- Collaborating with students to build interfaces
Special Thanks

The course "Museum Without Walls" and the "Intermedia Networks" research project is directed by Dr. Joyce Tsai, Clinical Associate Professor, University of Iowa College of Education and Curator, University of Iowa Museum of Art. It is generously supported with funds from Digital Bridges for Humanistic Inquiry, a collaboration between Grinnell College and The University of Iowa funded by the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation. Project development and technical support provided by Hannah Scates Kettler, Digital Humanities Librarian and Matthew Butler, Senior Developer at Digital Scholarship and Publishing Studio, University of Iowa Libraries.