NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

HOMER L. CALKIN was deputy director for research and reference in the Historical Office of the U.S. Department of State when he retired in 1977. He is author of Women in the Department of State: Their Role in American Foreign Affairs, published by the U.S. Government Printing Office in 1978. He is currently writing a history of minorities in the Department of State and compiling a bibliography of worldwide Methodist manuscript collections.

VALERIE M. LAGORIO is a professor of English at The University of Iowa in the medieval studies area, with specializations in paleography, manuscripts, Arthuriana, and the English and Continental medieval mystics. In addition, she helped to found and is now editor of the 14th-Century English Mystics Newsletter. Her publications include many articles on Arthurian literature, on manuscripts studied at the Vatican Film Library, and on the medieval mystics, including a recently published bibliography on the fourteenth-century English mystics.

PARALEE NORMAN is assistant professor of English at Northwestern State University of Louisiana, Fort Polk Campus. She has taught literature and composition at Muscatine Community College, Marycrest College in Davenport, and West Virginia Wesleyan College. Her Ph.D. thesis, “A Study of Light Satire in Three Novels Written by Marmion Wilne Savage,” was accepted in July 1978. She presently serves on the library committee at Northwestern.

WILLIAM ROBA is instructor of English at Scott Community College, Bettendorf, Iowa. He holds an A.B. in history from Augustana College, an M.A. in history from Cornell University, and a Ph.D. in American studies from The University of Iowa. He is a trustee for the Davenport Public Library.
The eighteenth annual spring dinner of the Friends will be held at the Highlander on the evening of April 30, 1982. The speaker and narrator, DeWitt Jones, will present "An Evening with Robert Frost."

Life Membership in the Friends is awarded to patrons whose gifts of rare books or financial contributions are at least $1,000, and to sustaining members whose annual contributions of $100 may become equivalent to this. Other annual memberships are solicited as follows: contributing memberships $25, regular memberships $10, student memberships $5. Institutions are accepted as regular members.

The ornaments on the back cover have been selected from a diversity of page headings which embellish a volume by Francis Bennoch entitled Poems, Lyrics, Songs, and Sonnets (London: Hardwicke and Bogue, 1877). From a copy in The University of Iowa Libraries.
