correctly to delineate the origin and growth of the States. As an historical text-book in schools and colleges, it will be invaluable and indispensable—a work which will at once be unique in scope and character. When it is completed and published it will become one of those standard authorities which it is scarcely possible to set aside or supersede. The work has already been copyrighted under the title of "Historical Geographical Atlas of the United States of America, etc."

THE HISTORICAL DEPARTMENT IN LEGISLATION.

It is deemed a matter of public interest, as well as of convenient reference, to present in these pages all enactments which refer to the Historical Department of Iowa. The first provision relating to anything now contained in this Department occurs in section 20 of the general appropriation bill of 1888, and reads as follows:

SECTION 20. For a contingent fund to be used by the Executive Council in liquidating such expenses as may arise from the acceptance by said Council of valuable gifts to the State, in the domain of literature, science and art, for exhibition in the Capitol, the sum of $1,000 for the biennial period, being $500 per annum.

CERTAIN HISTORICAL ACQUISITIONS.

More interesting probably than any other item yet acquired by the Historical Department of Iowa is the bound volume of The Dubuque Visitor, the first newspaper ever printed in the State. It is an old, dilapidated affair, but as the first Iowa newspaper, it will always possess a deep interest, justifying the long and earnest effort to obtain it. The Visitor was started on the 11th day of May, 1836, by John King. He was a very good editor and made a most readable paper for that day and generation. Every number contains articles and items which throw much light upon the history of our early settlements.
