MATHEW SIMPSON HUGHES was born at West Union, West Virginia, February 2, 1863, and died at Cleveland, Ohio, April 4, 1925. The final funeral rites were observed at Portland, Oregon. He was a son of the Reverend and Mrs. Thomas B. Hughes. He was educated in the common schools, in Linsley Institute and in the University of West Virginia. On leaving the University he became city editor of the Parkersburg Daily Journal. In 1883, although but little past twenty-one, he achieved state wide distinction as a political leader, speaking in the interest of the Republican party. In 1886 he was converted and at once decided to enter the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church. In September, 1887, he received his first appointment, that of Ewart Circuit in Boone-kick County, Iowa. From that little circuit of four polls he went as pastor to Malcom in 1888-89, to Grinnell in 1889-90, to Goshen Street Church, Portland, Maine, in 1890-91, to Wesley Church, Minneapolis, Minnesota, 1891-98, toIndependence Avenue Church, Kansas City, Missouri, in 1898-1908 and to First Church, Pasadena, California, in 1908-10. He was elected a bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church at the General Conference held at Saratoga Springs, New York, in 1912. From 1916 to 1924 he was resident bishop at Portland, Oregon. He was an elder of national reputation.

Arman N. Hosmer was born at Abbeville, City, Pennsylvania, April 1, 1848, and died at a hospital at Rochester, New York, April 10, 1918. Education was at West Union, Iowa. He came with his parents to Fayette County, Iowa, in 1855, and to West Union in 1858. He attended public schools, the Upper Iowa University, at Fayette, and, for a short time, the State University of Iowa. He was law at the University, Iowa, and with L. H. Ainsworth, and was admitted to the bar in 1870. For a short time thereafter he was in the revenue department at Des Moines, but in 1873 he became a foreman of the U.S. Post Office. This position continued until the fall of 1879 when Mr. Hobson was elected a judge of the Thirteenth Judicial District. This position he continued to hold for twenty-three years, or until his death. The estimation in which he was held by the people of his district was indicated by the fact that his re-elections were made with but little or no opposition. He served on the bench gave evidence of judicial talent of a high order. At different times he was prominently mentioned as a member of the State supreme court, and in 1890 all the counties of his judicial and congressional districts solidly supported him for nomination to that position. In 1916 he was president of the state bar association.

Harvey Barss was born in County Monaghan, Ireland, March 12, 1815, and died in Des Moines, Iowa, March 15, 1899. He emigrated to America in 1830 with his parents, who first located at Philadelphia, then at Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. In 1855 he came to Des Moines. Here he worked as an engineer in a pottery, and later as a coal miner.
