Proclamation

Whereas, an instrument known as the "New Constitution of the State of Iowa" adopted by the Constitutional Convention of said State on the fifth day of March 25th, 1837, was submitted to the people of the State on the seventh day of August 1837, for their approval or rejection.

And whereas the officers of the said election held at said time and place as aforesaid, together with their agents, reported to the said Constitutional Convention that seventy-five thousand three hundred and thirty-five votes were cast in favor of said Constitution, and eighty-eight thousand six hundred and eighty-one votes were cast against its adoption, making a majority of fifteen thousand one hundred and thirty-six votes in favor of its adoption.

Now therefore, I, James W. Grimes, Governor of said State, by virtue of the上述-stint, command upon the said Constitution to be adopted and declare it to be the supreme law of the State of Iowa.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the Great Seal of the State of Iowa.

Done at Iowa City this 31st day of October, 1837.

By the Governor,

James W. Grimes,

Secretary of State.

Facsimile of the record of the proclamation putting into effect the Constitution of 1837, as it appears on page 394, Vol. I, Register of the Official Acts of the Governor of the State of Iowa. The original manuscript with signatures and official impression of the Great Seal of the State of Iowa is not in the Archives Division of the Historical Department, nor to be found in casual search in the office of the Secretary of State.
THE CONSTITUTION OF IOWA IN FACSIMILE

By Edgar R. Harlan

The Annals in the present issue seeks to fix the legibility of the Constitution of 1857 and amendments through reduced facsimile. It is a bound manuscript of forty pages, nine and one-half by fifteen inches in size, the script very large and on a scale with the pages. The paper is not uniform in its color, the yellow of age being more pronounced on some than on other sheets. The ink is becoming brown and in places the colors already contrast so little that with the best ray filter and finest lens, the photographic plate will not receive impressions. This condition, of course, will increase with time.

There is value in this reproduction to those interested in the mechanics of writing. The Constitution, adopted in 1857, was engrossed in longhand. The first five amendments, adopted in 1868, the sixth in 1880, and the seventh, eighth, ninth, and tenth in 1884, are all engrossed in longhand. But the eleventh and twelfth, adopted in 1904, the thirteenth in 1907, and the fourteenth in 1915, were engrossed in typewriting.

Intending to record the present state of this valuable document, we did nothing to increase its legibility. The text of the Constitution is in print in countless numbers. Its meaning has been litigated and judicially defined in almost its every word. But the exact appearance of our basic law is familiar to few.

This reproduction resulted from a remark of Hon. John M. Rankin, representative in the General Assembly from Lee County, in the Fortyeth Extra session. Upon his inspection of the old document he said: "The youth of Iowa should be shown this instrument and taught a reverence for it. It is not too sacred to admit of reading and interpretation by any teacher in any school, whatever his culture, creed, or character. And it is too sacred not to be carried to the attention and into the intelligence of every one of the two and a quarter millions of us."
CONSTITUTION OF THE State of Iowa

WE, THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF IOWA grateful to the Supreme Being for the blessings with which we have been favored, and feeling our dependence on Him for a continuation of His blessings, do ordain and establish a free and independent government, by the name of the State of Iowa, the boundaries whereof shall be as follows:

Beginning in the middle of the main channel of the Mississippi River, at a point due East of the middle of the mouth of the main channel of the Des Moines River, thence up the middle of the main channel of the said Des Moines River, to a point on said river where the Northern boundary line of the State of Missouri—established by the constitution of that State—adopted June 12th, 1820, crosses the said middle of the main channel of the said Des Moines River, thence Westwardly along the said Northern boundary line of the State of Missouri, as established at the time aforesaid, until the extension of said line intersects the middle of the main channel of the Missouri River, thence up the middle of the main channel of the said Missouri River, to a point opposite the middle of the main channel of the Big Sioux River, according to the map of the said Sioux River, according to the said map, until it is intersected by the parallel of forty-three degrees and thirty minutes, latitude, thence East along said parallel of forty-three degrees and thirty minutes until said parallel intersects the middle of the main channel of the Mississippi River, thence down the middle of the main channel of said Mississippi River, to the place of beginning.
Article I.

Bill of Rights

Section 1. All men are, by nature, free and equal, and have certain inalienable rights among which are the right of enjoying and defending life and liberty, acquiring, possessing, and protecting property, and pursuing and obtaining safety and happiness.

Section 2. All political power is inherent in the people. Government is instituted for the protection, security, and benefit of the people, and they have the right, at all times, to alter or reform the same, whenever the public good may require it.

Section 3. The General Assembly shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; nor shall any person be compelled to attend any place of worship, pay tithes, taxes, or other rates for building or repairing places of worship, or the maintenance of any minister or ministry.

Section 4. No religious test shall be required as a qualification for any office, or public trust, and no person shall be deprived of any of his rights, privileges, or capacities, or disqualified from the performance of any of his public or private duties, or punished, incompetent to give evidence in any court of law or equity, or consequence of his opinions on the subject of religion; and any party to any judicial proceeding shall have the right to use as a witness, or take the testimony of, any other person not disqualified as a court of justice, who may be cognizant of any fact material to the case; and practice to suits may be witness, as provided by law.
Sec. 5. Any citizen of this State, who may hereafter be engaged, either directly, or indirectly, in a duel, either as principal, or accessory before the fact, shall forever be disqualified from holding any office under the Constitution and laws of this State.

Sec. 6. All laws of a general nature shall have a uniform operation; the General Assembly shall not grant to any citizen, or class of citizens, privileges or immunities, which, upon the same terms, shall not equally belong to all citizens.

Sec. 7. Every person may speak, write, and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that right. No law shall be passed to restrain or abridge the liberty of speech, or of the press. In all prosecutions or indictments for libel, the truth may be given in evidence to the jury, and if it appear to the jury that the matter charged as libelous was true, and was published with good motives and for justifiable cause, the party shall be acquitted.

Sec. 8. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue but on probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons and things to be seized.

Sec. 9. The right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate, but the General Assembly may authorize trials by a jury of twelve men; in inferior courts; but no person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law.
Sec. 10. In all criminal prosecutions, and in cases involving the life, or liberty, of an individual, the accused shall have a right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury, to be informed of the accusation against him, to have a copy of the same when demanded, to be confronted with the witnesses against him, to have compulsory process for his witnesses, and to have the assistance of counsel.

Sec. 11. All offenses less than felony, and in which the puniishment does not exceed a fine of one hundred dollars, or imprisonment for thirty days, shall be tried summarily before a Justice of the Peace, or other officer authorized by law, on information under oath, without indictment, or the intervention of a grand jury, saving to the defendant the right of appeal; and no person shall be held to answer for any higher criminal offense, unless on presentment or indictment by a grand jury, except in cases arising in the army, or navy, or in the navy, when in actual service, in time of war or public danger.

Sec. 12. No person shall, after acquittal, be tried for the same offense. All persons shall, before conviction, be bailable, by suficient sureties, except for capital offenses where the proof is evident or the presumption great.

Sec. 13. The body of deceased corporals shall not be suspended, or refused, when application is made as required by law, on like an case of rebellion, or invasion the public safety may require it.

Sec. 14. The military shall be subordinate to the civil power.
No standing army shall be kept up by the State in time of peace, and in time of war, no appropriation for a standing army shall be for a longer time than two years.
Sec. 15. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war except in the manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 16. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, adhering to its enemies, or giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted thereof, nor unless on the evidence of two witnesses to the same act, or confession in open court.

Sec. 17. Excessive bail shall not be required, excessive fines shall not be imposed, and cruel and unusual punishments shall not be inflicted.

Sec. 18. Private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation, nor be made, or secured to be made to the owner thereof, as soon as the damages shall be assessed by a jury, who shall not take into consideration any advantages that may result to said owner on account of the improvement for which it is taken.

Sec. 19. No person shall be imprisoned for debt in any civil action, on process or final process, unless in cases of fraud; and no person shall be imprisoned for a militia fine in time of peace.

Sec. 20. The people have the right freely to assemble together to consult, direct, and discuss public affairs; to make known their opinions and their representatives, and to petition for a redress of grievances.

Sec. 21. No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, shall ever be passed.

Sec. 22. Foreigners who are, or may hereafter become, residents of this State, shall enjoy the same rights in respect to the possession, enjoyment, and descent of property, as native-born citizens.
Sec. 23. There shall be no slavery in this State, nor shall there be involuntary servitude, unless for the punishment of crime.

Sec. 24. No lease or grant of agricultural lands, reserving any rent, or service of any kind, shall be valid for a longer period than twenty years.

Sec. 25. This enumeration of rights shall not be construed to impair or deny others, retained by the people.
Article II.
Right of Suffrage.

Section 1. Every white male citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a resident of this State six months next preceding the election, and of the County in which he claims his vote sixty days, shall be entitled to vote at all elections which are now or hereafter may be authorized by law.

Sec. 2. Electors shall, in all cases except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest on the day of election, during their attendance at such election, going to and returning therefrom.

Sec. 3. No elector shall be obliged to perform military duty on the day of election, except in time of war or public danger.

Sec. 4. No person in the military, naval, or marine service of the United States shall be considered a resident of this State by being stationed in any garrison, barracks, or military or naval post, or station within this State.

Sec. 5. No idiot, or insane person, or person convicted of any infamous crime, shall be entitled to the privileges of an elector.

Sec. 6. All elections by the people shall be by ballot.
Article III.

Of the Distribution of Powers.

Section 1. The powers of the government of Iowa shall be divided into three separate departments— the legislative, the Executive, and the Judicial, and no person charged with the exercise of powers properly belonging to one of those departments shall exercise any function appertaining to either of the others, except in cases hereinafter expressly directed or permitted.

Legislative Department.

Section 1. The legislative authority of this State shall be vested in a General Assembly, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives, and the style of every law shall be, 'Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Iowa.'

Sec. 2. The sessions of the General Assembly shall be biennial, and shall commence on the second Monday in January next ensuing the election of its members, and if the Governor of the State shall, in the meantime, convene the General Assembly by proclamation.

Sec. 3. The members of the House of Representatives shall be chosen every second year, by the qualified electors of their respective districts, on the second Tuesday in October, except the years of the Presidential elections, when the election shall be on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November; and their term of office shall commence on the first day of January next after their election, and continue two years, and until their successors are elected and qualified.
Sec. 1. No person shall be a member of the House of Representatives who shall not have attained the age of twenty-one years, be a free white male citizen of the United States, and shall have been an inhabitant of the State one year next preceding his election, and at the time of his election shall have had an actual residence of six months in the County, or District, he may have been chosen to represent.

Sec. 2. Senators shall be chosen for the term of four years, at the same time and place as Representatives, they shall be twenty-five years of age, and possess the qualification of Representatives as to residence and citizenship.

Sec. 3. The number of Senators shall not be less than one third, nor more than one half the Representatives, and shall be so classified by lot, that one class, being as near as one half as possible, shall be elected every two years. When the number of Senators is increased, they shall be annexed by lot to one of the other classes, so as to keep them as nearly equal in number as practicable.

Sec. 4. Each house shall choose its own officers, and judge of the qualification, election, and return of its own members. No contested election shall be determined in such manner as shall be directed by both.

Sec. 5. A majority of each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day; and may compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

Sec. 6. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and publish the same, determine its rules of proceedings, punish members for disorderly behavior, and, with the consent of two thirds of a member, but not a second time for the same offense, and shall have all other powers necessary for a branch of the General Assembly of a free and independent State.

Sec. 10. Every member of the General Assembly shall have the liberty to dissent from, or protest against, any act or law, which he may think injurious to the public, or an individual, and have the reasons for his dissent entered in the journals; and the year and name of the member of either house, on any question, shall, at the desire of any two members present, be entered in the journals.

Sec. 11. Senators and Representatives, in all cases, except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, shall be privileged from arrest during the session of the General Assembly, and on going to and returning from the same.

Sec. 12. When vacancies occur in either house, the Governor, or the person exercising the functions of Governor, shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

Sec. 13. The doors of each house shall be open, except on such occasions, as, in the opinion of the house, may require secrecy.

Sec. 14. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which they may be sitting.

Sec. 15. Bills may originate in either house, and may be amended, altered, or rejected by the other; and every bill having passed both houses, shall be signed by the Speaker and President of their respective houses.
Sec. 16. Every bill which shall have passed the General Assembly, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor. If he approves, he shall sign it, but if not, he shall return it with his objections, to the house in which it originated, which shall enter the same upon their journal, and proceed to reconsider it; if, after such reconsideration, it again pass both houses, by yeas and nays, by a majority of the whole number of the members of each house, it shall become a law, notwithstanding the Governor's objections. If any bill shall not be returned within thirty days after it shall have been presented to him, Sunday excepted, the same shall be a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the General Assembly, by adjournment, prevent such return. Any bill submitted to the Governor for his approval during the last three days of a session of the General Assembly, shall be deposited by him in the office of the Secretary of State, within thirty days after the adjournment, with his approval, if approved by him, and with his objections, if he disapproves thereof.

Sec. 17. No bill shall be passed unless by the assent of a majority of all the members elected to each branch of the General Assembly, and the question upon the final passage shall be taken immediately upon its last reading, and the yeas and nays entered on the journal.

Sec. 18. An accurate statement of the receipts and expenditures of the public money shall be attached to and published with the laws, at every regular session of the General Assembly.

Sec. 19. The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment, and all impeachments shall be tried by the Senate. When sitting for that purpose, the Senators shall be upon oath or affirmation, and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two thirds of the members present.
Sec. 20. The Governor, Judges of the Supreme and District Courts, and other State officers, shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor or malfeasance in office: but just merit, in such cases shall extend only to removal from office, and disqualification to hold any office of honor, trust, or profit, under this State; but the party convicted or acquitted shall nevertheless be liable to indictment, trial, and punishment, according to law. All other civil officers shall be tried for misdemeanor and malfeasance in office, in such manner as the General Assembly may provide.

Sec. 21. No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office of profit under this State, which shall have been created, or the increase of which shall have been increased during such term, except such offices as may be filled by the people.

Sec. 22. No person holding any lucrative office under the United States, or this State, or any other power, shall be eligible to hold a seat in the General Assembly; but officers in the militia, to which there is attached an annual salary, or the office of justice of the peace, or postmaster, whose compensation does not exceed one hundred dollars per annum, or notary public, shall not be deemed lucrative.

Sec. 23. No person who may henceforth be a collector or holder of public moneys, shall have a seat in either House of the General Assembly, or be eligible to hold any office of trust or profit in this State, until he shall have accounted for, and paid into the treasury all sums for which he may be liable.

Sec. 24. No money shall be drawn from the treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law.
Sec. 25. Each member of the first General Assembly under the Constitution, shall receive three dollars per diem while in session, and the further sum of three dollars for every mile traveled, in going to and returning from the place where such session is held, by the nearest traveled route, after which they shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by law;
but no General Assembly shall have power to increase the com-ensation of its own members. And when convened in extra session they shall receive the same mileage and per diem com-ensation, as fixed by law for the regular session, and remit therein.

Sec. 26. All laws of the General Assembly, passed at a regular session of a public nature, shall take effect until the fourth day of July next after the passage thereof, laws passed at a special session shall take effect ninety days after the adjournment of the General Assembly by which they were passed. If the General Assembly shall deem any law of immediate importance, they may provide that the same shall take effect by publication in newspapers in the State.

Sec. 27. No divorce shall be granted by the General Assembly.

Sec. 28. No lottery shall be authorized by this State, nor shall the sale of lottery tickets be allowed.

Sec. 29. Every act shall embrace but one subject, and not its properly connected therewith; which subject shall be explicit in the title. But if any subject shall be embraced in an act which shall not be expressed in the title, such act shall be void only as to so much thereof as shall not be explicit in the title.

Sec. 30. The General Assembly shall not pass local or special laws in the following cases:
For the assessment and collection of taxes for State, County,
or municipal purposes,
For laying out, opening, and working roads or highways,
For changing the names of cities;
For the incorporation of cities and towns;
For vacating roads, town plat, streets, alleys, or public squares;
For locating or changing county seats.
In all the cases above enumerated, and in all other cases where a general law can be made applicable, all laws shall be general, and of uniform operation throughout the State, and any localizing or the boundary lines of any county shall have effect until upon being submitted to the people of the counties affected by the changes, at a general election, it shall be approved by a majority of the votes in such county, cast for and against it.

Sec. 31. An extra compensation shall be made to any officer, public agent, or contractor, after the service shall have been rendered, or the contract performed, as shall any money be paid to any claim, the subject matter of which shall not have been provided for by pre-existing laws, and no public money or property shall be appropriated for local or private purposes, unless such appropriation, compensation, or claim be allowed by two-thirds of the members elected to each branch of the General Assembly.

Sec. 32. Members of the General Assembly shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: I do solemnly swear or affirm, (as the case may be) that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Iowa, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of Senator or Representative, as the case may be, according to the best of my ability. And members of the General Assembly are hereby empowered to administer to each other the said oath or affirmation.

Sec. 33. The General Assembly shall, in the years One thousand seven hundred and sixty-three, One thousand eight hundred and sixty-five, One thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, One thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, One thousand eight hundred and seventy-one, One thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, One thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, One thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven, One thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, and One thousand eight hundred and eighty-one, adopt a code of laws for the State of Iowa, and cause the same to be printed, and a copy thereof to be delivered to the Governor, and one copy to each of the members of the General Assembly.
Hundred and twenty-five, and every ten years thenceforward, an enumeration to be made of all the white inhabitants of the State.

Sec. 34. The number of Senators shall, at the next session following each period of making such enumeration, and the next session following each United States census, be fixed by law, and apportioned among the several counties, according to the number of white inhabitants in each.

Sec. 35. The Senate shall not consist of more than fifty members, nor the House of Representatives of more than one hundred and fifty members; and they shall be apportioned among the several counties and representative districts of the State, according to the number of white inhabitants in each, upon rates to be fixed by law, but no representative district shall contain more than four enumerated counties, and each district, shall be entitled to at least one representative. Every county and district which shall have a number of inhabitants equal to one-half of the rate fixed by law, shall be entitled to one representative; and any one county containing an additional to the rate fixed by law, one half of that number, or more, shall be entitled to one additional representative. A filling district shall have, after be formed.

Sec. 36. At the first session under this Constitution, and every subsequent regular session, the General Assembly shall fix the rates of representatives, and also form such representative districts thereunder, which will not be entitled singly to a representative.

Sec. 37. When a congressional, senatorial, or representative district shall be composed of two or more counties, it shall not be entirely separated by any county belonging to another district, and no county shall be divided in forming a congressional, senatorial, or representative district.

Sec. 38. In all elections by the General Assembly, the member thereof shall vote personally, and the votes shall be entered in the journal.
Article IV.

Article VII.

State Debts.

Section 1. The credit of the State shall not, in any manner, be given to or leaned on, or in aid of, any individual, association, or corporation, or the State shall never, directly or indirectly, become responsible for, the debts or liabilities of any individual, association, or corporation, only incurred in time of war, for the benefit of the State.

Sec. 2. The State may contract debts to supply current deficits or failures in revenue, or to meet expenses not otherwise provided for, but the aggregate amount of such debts, direct and contingent, whether created by virtue of one or more acts of the General Assembly, or at different periods of time, shall never exceed the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and the money arising from the creation of such debts shall be applied to the purpose for which it was obtained, or to repay the debts so contracted, and to no other purpose whatever.

Sec. 3. All lepers to the permanent school, or university fund of this State, which shall have been occasioned by the depredations, mismanagement, or fraud of the agents or officers controlling or managing the same, shall be remedied by the proper authority of the State. The amount so assaulted shall be a permanent funded debt against the State, in favor of the respective funds sustaining the life, upon which not less than six per centum annual interest shall be paid. The amount of liability so created shall not be deemed as a part of the indebtedness authorized by the second section of this article.

Sec. 4. In addition to the above limited power to contract debts, the State may contract debts to defray invasion, supplies, or necessary, to defend the State in war, but the money arising from the debts so contracted, shall be applied to the purpose for which it was raised, or to repay such debts, and to no other purpose whatever.

Sec. 5. Except the debts hereinbefore specified in this article, no debts shall be hereafter contracted by, or on behalf of this State, unless such debts Shall be authorized by some law for some single work or object to be distinctly specified therein; and such law shall provide for the collection of a direct annual tax, sufficient to pay the interest on such debt, as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal of such debt, within twenty years from the time of the enacting thereof; but no such law shall take effect until at a general election shall have been submitted to the people, and have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election; and all money raised by authority of such law, shall be applied only to the specific object therein stated, or to the payment of the debt created thereby; and such law shall be published in at least one newspaper in each county, if one is published therein, throughout the State, for three months preceding the election at which it is submitted to the people.

Sec. 6. The legislature may at any time, after the approval of such law by the people, if a debt shall have been contracted in pursuance thereof, repeal the same; and may, at any time, forbid the contracting of any further debt, or liability, under such law; but the tax imposed by such law, in proportion to the debt or liability, which may have been contracted in pursuance thereof, shall remain in force and be receivable, and be annually collected, until the principal and interest are fully paid.

Sec. 7. Every law which imposes, continues, or revives a tax, shall distinctly state the tax, and the object to which it is to be applied; and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.
Article VIII.

Corporations.

Section 1. All corporations shall be created by special laws, but the General Assembly shall provide, in general laws, for the organization of all corporations hereafter to be created, except as hereafter provided.

Sec. 2. The property of all corporations for forcing good, shall be subject to taxation, the same as that of individuals.

Sec. 3. All corporation shall not become a stockholder in any corporation, nor shall it assume to pay the debt of liability of any corporation, unless there shall be a law of war for the benefit of the State.

Sec. 4. All political or municipal corporation shall become a stockholder in any banking corporation, directly or indirectly.

Sec. 5. No act of the General Assembly authorizing or creating corporations to associations with banking powers, or amendments thereto, shall take effect or in any manner be in force, until the same shall have been submitted, separately, to the people, at a general or special election, as provided by law, to be held not less than six months after the passage of the act, and shall have been approved by a majority of all the electors voting for and against it at such election.

Sec. 6. Subject to the provisions of the foregoing section, the General Assembly may also provide for the establishment of a State Bank with branches.

Sec. 7. If a State Bank be established, it shall be formed under the several laws, and the branches shall be mutually responsible for and other liabilities upon all notes, bills, and other evidence intended for circulation or money.

Sec. 8. If a general Banking law shall be enacted, it shall provide.
For the security and accounting, by an officer of the State, of all City, or proper credit, designed to circulate as money, and repay security to the full amount thereof, to be deposited with the State Treasurer, in United States Stocks, or in interest-paying Stocks of States in good credit and standing, to be invested at ten per cent below their average values in the City of New York, for the thirty days next preceding their deposit, and in case of a deficiency of any portion of said Stocks, to the amount of ten per cent on the dollars, the bank or banks owning such stocks shall be required to make up said deficiency by depositing additional Stocks and such law shall also provide for the recording of the names of all stockholders in such corporation, the amount of stock held by each, the time of any transfer, and to whom.

Sec. 6. Every stockholder in a banking corporation incorporated shall be individually responsible and liable to its creditors, and above the amount of stock by him or his heirs, to an amount equal to the sum of his respective shares subject to all liabilities, arising while he or his remain, each stockholder.

Sec. 10. In case of the insolvency of any banking institution, the bill-holder shall have a preference over the other creditors.

Sec. 11. The suspension of specie payments by banking institutions shall never be permitted to commence.

Sec. 13. Subject to the provisions of this article, the General Assembly shall have power to amend or repeal all laws for the organization or creation of corporations, or granting of special or exclusive privileges or immunities, by a vote of two-thirds of each branch of the General Assembly, and no such privilege, except as in this article provided, shall ever be granted.
Article IX.

Education and School Lands

Sec. 1. The educational interest of the State, including Common Schools and other educational institutions, shall be under the management of a Board of Education, which shall consist of the Lieutenant Governor, who shall be the presiding officer of the Board, and have the casting vote in case of a tie, and one member to be elected at from each judicial district in the State.

Sec. 2. No person shall be eligible to a member of such Board who shall not have attained the age of twenty-five years, and shall have been one year a citizen of the State.

Sec. 3. One member of such Board shall be chosen by the qualified electors of each district, and shall hold the office for the term of four years, and until his successor is elected and qualifies. After the first election under this Constitution, the Board shall be divided as nearly as practicable into two equal parts, and the seats of the first half shall be vacated after the expiration of two years, and the half of the Board shall be chosen every two years thereafter.

Sec. 4. The first session of the Board of Education shall be held at the seat of Government on the first Tuesday of December after their election; after which the Governor may fix the time and place of meeting.

Sec. 5. The session of the Board shall be limited to twenty days, and but one session shall be held in any one year, except upon extraordinary occasion, when, upon the recommendation of the Board, the Governor may order a special session.

Sec. 6. The Board of Education shall appoint a Secretary, who shall be the executive officer of the Board, and perform such duties.

as may be imposed upon him by the Board, and the law of the State. They shall keep a journal of their proceedings, which shall be published and distributed in the same manner as the journals of the General Assembly.

Sec. 7. All rules and regulations made by the Board shall be published and distributed to the several Counties, Townships, and School Districts, as may be provided for by the Board, and when so made, published and distributed, they shall have the force and effect of law.

Sec. 8. The Board of Education shall have full power and authority to legislate and make all, needful rules and regulations relating to Common Schools, and other educational institutions, that are instituted, to receive aid from the School or University fund of the State; but all acts, rules, and regulations of such Board may be altered, amended, or repealed by the General Assembly, and when so altered, amended, or repealed, they shall not be re-enacted by the Board of Education.

Sec. 9. The Governor of the State shall be, ex officio, a member of such Board.

Sec. 10. The Board shall have no power to lay taxes, or make apportionments of money. Their contingent expenses shall be provided for by the General Assembly.

Sec. 11. The State University shall be established at one place without a branch at any other place, and the University fund shall be applied to that Institution, and no other.

Sec. 12. The Board of Education shall provide for the education of all the youth of the State, through a system of Common Schools, and each school shall be organized and kept in each school district at least three months in each year. Any district failing, for two consecutive years, to organize and keep up a school or a school may be deprived of their portion of the school funds.
Sec. 13. The members of the Board of Education shall each receive the same for their services in the course of their sessions, and mileage going to and returning therefrom, as members of the General Assembly.

Sec. 14. A majority of the Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but no rule, regulation, or law for the government of Common Schools or other educational institutions, shall pass without the concurrence of a majority of all the members of the Board, which shall be reported by the year and subject on the final passage. The style of all acts of the Board shall be, "Act enacted by the Board of Education of the State of Iowa."

Sec. 15. At any time after the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, the General Assembly shall have power to abolish or reorganize such Board of Education, and provide for the educational interests of the State in any other manner that to them shall seem best and proper.

2nd. School Funds and School Lands.

Section 1. The educational and school funds and lands, shall be under the control and management of the General Assembly of the State.

Sec. 2. The University lands, and the proceeds thereof, and all money and lands belonging to said fund, shall be a permanent fund for the support of the State University. The interest arising from the same, shall be annually appropriated for the support and benefit of said University.

Sec. 3. The General Assembly shall encourage, by all suitable means the promotion of intellectual, scientific, moral, and agricultural improvements. The proceeds of all lands that have been, or hereafter may be, granted by the United States to this State, for the support of schools, which may have been, or shall hereafter be set, or deposited, and the five hundred thousands acres of land, granted to the new State, under an act of Congress, distributing the proceeds of the public lands among the several States of the Union, approved in the year of our Lord one
ANNAI, S OF IOWA

Sec. 2. The money which may have been or shall be paid by persons as an equivalent for exemption from military duty, and the clear proceeds of all sums collected in the several counties, by any means of the several townships, shall be equally apportioned to the support of common schools throughout the State.

Sec. 3. The General Assembly shall take measures for the protection, improvement, or other disposition of such lands as have been, or may hereafter be conveyed, or granted by the United States, to any persons or persons in the State, for the use of the University, out of the funds arising from such sale of such lands, or from any other source. The proceeds of such sale, or the proceeds thereof, shall be, and remain, a permanent fund, the interest of which shall be applied to the support of said University, for the promotion of literature, the arts, and sciences, or may be authorized by the laws of said state. And it shall be the duty of the General Assembly, as soon as may be, to provide additional means for the improvement, and permanent security of the funds of said University.

Sec. 4. The financial agents of the school funds shall be the same, that by law, receive and control the State and county revenue for civil purposes, and such regulations as may be provided by law.

Sec. 5. The money subject to the support and maintenance of common schools...
Shall be distributed to the districts in proportion to the number of youth, between the ages of six and twenty-one years, in such manner as may be provided by the General Assembly.
Article X.
Amendments to the Constitution.

Section 1. Any amendment or amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in either House of the General Assembly, and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two Houses, such proposed amendment shall be entered on their journals, and the same, with all papers taken therein, and referred to the Legislature to be known at the next general election, and shall be published, as provided by law, for three months previous to the time of making such choice; and if the General Assembly is not chosen as a permanent, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to, by a majority of all the members elected to such House, then it shall be the duty of the General Assembly, to submit such proposed amendment or amendments to the people, in such manner, and at such time, as the General Assembly shall provide, and if the people shall approve and adopt such amendment or amendments, by a majority of the electors qualified to vote for members of the General Assembly, voting therein, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the Constitution of the State.

Sec. 2. If two or more amendments shall be submitted at the same time, they shall be submitted in such manner that the electors shall vote for or against each of such amendments separately.

Sec. 3. At the general election to be held in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy and every second year thereafter, and also at such times as the General Assembly may, by law, provide, the question, shall then be a Convention to revise the Constitution, and amend the same, shall be decided by the electors qualified to vote for members of the General Assembly, and in case a majority of the electors so qualified, voting at such election, for and against such proposal, shall decide in favor of a Convention for such purpose, the General Assembly, at its next session, shall provide, by law, for the election of delegates to such Convention.
Article XI.

Section 1. The jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace shall extend to all civil cases, except cases in chancery, and cases where the question of title to real estate may arise, where the amount in controversy does not exceed one hundred dollars, and by the consent of parties may be extended to any amount not exceeding three hundred dollars.

Sec. 2. No new County shall be hereafter created containing less than four hundred and thirty-two square miles; nor shall the territory of any organized county be reduced below that area except the County of Humboldt, and the counties west of it, along the Northern boundary of this State, may be organized without additional territory.

Sec. 3. An county, or other political or municipal corporation, shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner, or for any purpose, to an amount, in the aggregate, exceeding five per centum on the value of the taxable property within such county or corporation, to be determined by the last State assessment, by the latter proceeding to the assessing of such indebtedness.

Sec. 4. The boundaries of the State may be enlarged, with the consent of Congress and the General Assembly.

Sec. 5. Every person elected or appointed to any office, shall, before entering upon the duties thereof, take an oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of the United States and of this State, and also an oath of office.

Sec. 6. In all cases of elections to fill vacancies in office, occurring before the expiration of a full term, the person so elected shall hold for the residue of the unexpired term; and all persons appointed to fill vacancies in office, shall hold until the next general election, and until their successors are elected and qualified.
The General Assembly shall not locate any of the public lands, which have been, or may be granted by Congress to this State, and the location of which may be given to the General Assembly, upon lands actually settled, without the consent of the occupant. The extent of the claim of such occupant, so exempted, shall not exceed three hundred and twenty acres.

Sec. 5. The seat of Government is hereby permanently established, as now fixed by law, at the City of Des Moines in the County of Polk, and the State University, at Iowa City, in the County of Johnson.
Article XII.

Schedule.

Section 1. This Constitution shall be the supreme law of the State, and any law inconsistent therewith, shall be null. The General Assembly shall cause all laws necessary to carry this Constitution into effect.

Sec. 2. All laws now in force and not inconsistent with this Constitution, shall remain in force until they shall expire or be repealed.

Sec. 3. All instruments, proceedings, suits, peace, plaintiffs, process, and other proceedings pending on any of the courts, shall be prosecuted and judgment and execution, and all appeals, suits of error, rehearings, and injunctions, shall be carried on in the same manner as now provided by law; and all offenses, misdemeanors, and crime that may have been committed before the taking effect of this Constitution, shall be subject to indictment, trial, and punishment as the same punishable would have been, but not that Constitution then made.

Sec. 2. All fees for trials, or proceedings due, or to become due, or owing to the State, or to any county therein, or to the school fund, shall cease to the State, county, or school fund, in the manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 3. All bonds executed to the State, or to any officer to the officer's capacity, shall remain in force and venue to the use of the concerned.

Sec. 6. The first election under this Constitution shall be held on the second Tuesday in October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty, at which time the electors of the State shall elect the governor and lieutenant-governor. There shall also be elected at such election the electors of such State Senators as were elected at the last election, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, and members of the House of Representatives, who shall be elected in accordance with the act of opposition, enacted at the session of the General Assembly which commenced on the first Monday of December one thousand eight hundred and...
Sec. 4. The first election for Secretary, Auditor, and Treasurer of State, Attorney-General, Circuit Judges, Members of the Board of Education, District Attorneys, members of Congress, and such State offices as shall be elected at the April election, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, (except the Superintendent of Public Instruction) and such county officers as were elected at the August election, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, (except District Judges) shall be held on the second Tuesday of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight; Provided, That the time for which any District Judge, as other State or County officers elected at the April election in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, shall not extend beyond the time fixed for sitting like officers at the October election in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six.

Sec. 5. The first regular session of the General Assembly shall be held in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight commencing on the second Monday of January of said year.

Sec. 10. Senators elected at the August election, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, shall continue in office until the second Tuesday of October, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-six, and fifteen days at which time their successors shall be elected or may be appointed by law.

Sec. 11. Every person elected by popular vote, by vote of the General Assembly, or who may hold office by executive appointment, which office is continued by this Constitution, and every person who shall be elected or appointed, to any such office, before the taking effect of this Constitution, (except as in this Constitution otherwise provided) shall continue in office until the time for which such person has been or may be elected or appointed shall expire; but no such person shall continue in office after the taking effect of this Constitution for a longer period than the term of such office, in this Constitution provided.

Art. 10. The General Assembly, at the first session under this Constitution, shall divide the State into eleven Judicial Districts, for the first Court purposes, and shall also provide for the appointment of the members of the General Assembly, in accordance with the provisions of this Constitution.

Art. 11. The Constitution shall be submitted to the electors of the State at the August election, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, in the several election districts in this State. The ballots at such election shall be written or printed as follows: "Yes in favor of the Constitution. New Constitution. Yes. "No" against the Constitution. New Constitution. No." The election shall be conducted in the same manner as the general elections of the State, and the polls shall be conducted and canvassed as provided in the twenty-fifth chapter of the code, and abstracts shall be forwarded to the Secretary of State, which abstracts shall be certified in the manner prescribed for the canvases of other offices. And if it shall appear that a majority of the votes cast at such election for and against the Constitution are in favor of the same, the Governor shall immediately issue his proclamation stating that fact, and such Constitution shall be the Constitution of the State of Iowa, and shall take effect from and after the publication of said proclamation.

Art. 12. At the same election that this Constitution is submitted to the people for its adoption or rejection, a proposition to amend the same by adding to the words "White" from the article on the Right of Suffrage, shall be separately submitted to the electors of this State for adoption or rejection in manner following—Namely: A separate ballot may be given by every person having a right to vote at such election, to be deposited in a separate box; and there given for the adoption of such proposition shall have the words, "Shall the word "White" be struck out of the article on the Right of Suffrage? Yes." And those given against the proposition shall have the words, "Shall the word "White" be struck out of the article on the Right of Suffrage 7th Article. And if at said election the number of ballots cast in favor of said proposition shall be equal to a majority of those cast for and against the Constitution, then said words "Hills" shall be stricken from said Article and be as part thereof.

Sec. 15. Until otherwise directed by law, the County of Hills shall be included in the second judicial district of the State.

Done in Convention at Iowa City, this fifth day of March in the year of our Lord One thousand eight hundred and fifty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the eighty-first.

In testimony whereof we have hereunto subscribed our names.
