OUR DIVISION OF WORLD WAR WORK

As heretofore stated in the Annals, our World War Division of the Iowa Historical, Memorial and Art Department set out to supplement the information which a mere roster affords of men who served from Iowa in the World War. It is to be presumed that the adjutant-general will in due time publish such roster, and that it will resemble rosters of Iowa soldiers in prior wars in that it will detail with accuracy the service of each Iowa man in uniform under the stars and stripes, but will not furnish information beyond the brief period of military service, although in the building of our state the subsequent civil life of each man and woman shall be worthy of public record.

We here set out a typical communication upon Iowa men in foreign service in the World War—men not in Iowa organizations, or even under the stars and stripes, but who contributed to the common cause none the less. Their status in the biographical sense is the same as that of their companions in arms who were never elsewhere than under American command.

Edgar R. Harlan Esq., Curator.
Historical Department of Iowa.

Dear Sir:

We are sending you eighteen more copies of war service records of men from your state who served, during the World War, in the armies and navies of the Allies, and we hope they will prove of value to you.

We will be very grateful for any similar war records with which you may at any time be able to furnish us. We would point out that our list is limited to those who were American citizens at the time of their enlistment; we do not include foreigners who were merely residents of this country, nor men born in the United States who had become naturalized abroad before 1914.

We have underlined on the records any facts of especial interest, such as enlistment in the early days of the War, or the extreme youth or age of the soldier,
While we believe that all the records which we are sending you are those of men who were American citizens, yet we do not guarantee this, as some ignorant persons are rather vague as to their nationality. We have simply copied the facts supplied by the soldiers themselves. Our questionnaire forms contain the words "If naturalized give date and place of naturalization" and, to secure more explicit information, we have lately added the words, "Was he an American citizen at the time of enlistment?"

Wishing you all success in your task of preserving the memory of American fighting men, believe me,

Very truly yours,

L. S. M. ROBINSON,
Secretary of Department No. 6.

TWO INTERESTING CANES.
Two of the score of walking sticks in our collections have interesting origins and implications.

Of the two in mind, one was presented to us by Charles Mason Remey, son of Admiral George C. Remey. The mother of Charles Mason Remey was a daughter of Charles Mason, eminent early Iowa jurist and political leader of first rank in Washington, D. C., from 1850 to 1870. This cane is not beautiful. The ferule is broken off and gone. But attached to the ivory head is a card in the writing of Mr. Remey reading, "Walking Stick given to Charles Mason by Jefferson Davis. Cut from the Davis home estate."

The second cane was presented to us by Emerson Hough and to it is attached a card inscribed in the handwriting of Mr. Hough: "This cane was made from an Abraham Lincoln rail. Presented to Emerson Hough by his father-in-law, C. H. Chesbro, of Galesburg, Ill. It was given to Mr. Chesbro by Mr. Chapman, of Farmington, Ill., and is a Lincoln relic, or of his immediate day. E. H."
