2002

Human Rights Index

University of Iowa Center for Human Rights

Follow this and additional works at: https://ir.uiowa.edu/iowareview

Part of the Creative Writing Commons

Recommended Citation
Available at: https://doi.org/10.17077/0021-065X.5579

This Contents is brought to you for free and open access by Iowa Research Online. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Iowa Review by an authorized administrator of Iowa Research Online. For more information, please contact lib-ir@uiowa.edu.
15: Minutes a United States judge could spend on an immigration status hearing if Attorney General Ashcroft’s goal to clear a backlog of hearings is to be met, i.e., 55,000 cases within 180 days (Lawyers Committee for Human Rights 2002)

64: Percent of Senegalese refugees, asylum-seekers, and internally displaced persons who are under the age of eighteen, with 19 percent under the age of four (UNHCR 2002)

21,793,300: Estimated number of refugees, asylum seekers, and internally displaced persons worldwide (UNHCR 2002)

303,000,000: Dollars required by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) to carry out programs in Africa during 2002 (UNHCR 2002)

Refugees

500: Dollars Canada requires all refugees to pay when arriving in Canada (“landing fee”), regardless of their economic status (Canadian Council for Refugees 2002)

1:585: Ratio of refugees to total population in the United States compared to equivalent ratio (1:36) in Iran (U.S. Committee for Refugees 2002 and Human Rights Watch 2002)

12,065,414: Number of refugees worldwide in 2001 (UNHCR 2002)

Asylum-seekers

13: Rajakurmar’s age when his father was seized by Sri Lankan government soldiers and caused to disappear, with Rajakumar and his mother then fleeing to New York where he was taken from his mother by the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) and locked in a New York hotel for over a month (Amnesty International 2002)

70: Number of racially motivated attacks on asylum-seekers in Glasgow, Scotland during a six months period in 2001 (Human Rights Watch and Scottish Refugee Council 2001)

(Continued on the next page)
438: Number of asylum-seekers rescued by a Norwegian freighter from a sinking Indonesian ferry in Australian waters who then were denied entry by Australia into Australia which now pursues a policy of refusing asylum-seekers who do not reach the Australian mainland (Human Rights Watch 2001)

925,677: Number of asylum-seekers worldwide in 2001 (UNCHR 2002)

INTERNALLY DISPLACED PERSONS (IDPs)³

6: Number of countries out of ten worldwide with the highest number of IDPs, all of them located in Africa (U.S. Committee for Refugees 2002)

2,100,000: Number of IDPs reported in Colombia in 2000 (U.S. Committee for Refugees 2002)

4,400,000: Number of people who have had to flee their homes during the past seventeen years of war in southern Sudan (U.S. Committee for Refugees 2002)

5,047,960: Number of IDPs worldwide in 2001 according to the UN High Commissioner for Refugees (UNCHR 2002)⁴

25,000,000: Number of IDPs worldwide in 2001 according to the Brookings-CUNY Project (Brookings-CUNY Project on IDPs 2002)

1. Persons who, owing to a well-founded fear of being persecuted for reasons of race, religion, nationality, membership in a particular social group, or political opinion, are outside the country of their nationality and are unable or unwilling, owing to such fear, to avail themselves of the protection of that country.

2. Persons who, owing to the threat of persecution in their own country, seek refuge with a corresponding legal status within another sovereign state's territory, each sovereign state having the authority to grant or deny such status.

3. Persons who are forced by war or threat of persecution to abandon their homes and move to another region within the same country.

4. There is much disparity in IDP statistics, testimony to the definitional, demographic, and political complexity of the phenomenon. The International Committee of the Red Cross, for example, refuses to quote a number because it believes the available statistics to be greatly manipulated by governments, non-governmental organizations, and others.

For source details and further information on human rights, please visit The University of Iowa Center for Human Rights (UICHR) web site: www.uichr.org