yet required close attention. Her public work and her fine personality made her innumerable friends. She was regarded as an honorary member of the Pioneer Lawmakers Association.

John Henry Strief was born in Galena, Illinois, August 21, 1855, and died in Des Moines, Iowa, June 21, 1936. Burial was in the Masonic section of Glendale Cemetery, Des Moines. His parents, Henry and Mary Ellen (McDonald) Strief, removed from Galena to Dubuque, Iowa, in 1866. A few years later they removed to Chicago, and in 1876 to LeMars, Iowa. There the son learned the printing trade. He conducted the LeMars Globe for a time, and in 1883 had charge of the publication of the Kingsley Times. In 1884 he removed to Sioux City and for several years was employed in the composing rooms of the daily papers of that place. In 1901 he was chosen secretary-treasurer of the Iowa State Federation of Labor and retained that position twelve years. He was president of that organization from 1913 to 1917. In 1917 Governor Harding appointed him a member of the Board of Control for a full term of six years, and in 1923 Governor Kendall reappointed him, so he served twelve years in that position. In their division of responsibilities the board assigned Mr. Strief to give especial attention to the penal institutions, and he won a record for efficiency in that difficult work. In 1930 he was employed by the Federal Department of Justice as an inspector and traveled in different parts of the country in performance of his duties. He retired in 1935.

Chauncey Peter Colgrove was born in Bath, New York, August 11, 1855, and died in Pasadena, California, June 7, 1936. His parents were the Reverend Peter and Anne Elizabeth (Graham) Colgrove. He received from Upper Iowa University, Fayette, Iowa, a liberal arts degree in 1881, and the degree of Sci. D. in 1908, A. M. from Chicago University in 1896, and L.L. D. from Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa, in 1919. He taught in the Preparatory Department of Upper Iowa University, 1882-86; was superintendent at Waukon, 1886-91; was principal at Nora Springs, 1891-95; was professor of psychology and didactics in Iowa State Normal School in 1896, was head of the Department of Education in the same institution, 1908-16, and vice president, 1907-16; and president of Upper Iowa University, 1916-21. He was a delegate to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in 1916 and 1920. He was the author of several books on educational subjects, among them, The Teacher and the School, which was extensively used in teachers' training schools.

George Mogridge was born in Salford, near Manchester, England, June 3, 1856, and died in Glenwood, Iowa, July 21, 1936. Interment was in the Glenwood Cemetery. His parents were Edwin and Hannah (Chapman) Mogridge. He attended school in England and at the age of fourteen became a clerk with a law firm in Manchester, remaining
