

2007

Nafanua's Family

Tusiata Avia

Follow this and additional works at: <http://ir.uiowa.edu/iowareview>

Part of the Creative Writing Commons

Recommended Citation

Avia, Tusiata. "Nafanua's Family." The Iowa Review 37.3 (2007): 139-139. Web.
Available at: <https://doi.org/10.17077/0021-065X.6313>

This Contents is brought to you for free and open access by Iowa Research Online. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Iowa Review by an authorized administrator of Iowa Research Online. For more information, please contact lib-ir@uiowa.edu.

TUSIATA AVIA

Nafanua's Family

Aunty Lapo'a says things behind Nafanua's back:
Ia, va'ai se keige, jus run off into da sunset
Who look after da mother?
Who look after da father?
Nafanua, she always been da kafaovale-run-around one no good for da kirl be like dat.

Nafanua thinks about her mother
Why was she so mean?
Why did she bend the children's arms?
Why did she tie them to chair legs?

Aunty says she was always like that and with the boys
walking on the road
knowing all the tricks hair out lavalava tied like that.

There is a story about Nafanua's mother as a young woman
there were guests in the house when her father arrived from kua Palagi guests
Uncle told him what she had done.

Nafanua's mother on her knees in the middle of the room
Nafanua sees her from the back—the sweet angle of her head
she doesn't need to see her face or hear the belt or cane or whatever it was they used that is the moment she loves her that is the moment she loves her the most.

GLOSSARY

Ia, va'ai se keige: Look at that girl
Kua: remote villages
Lavalava: wrap-around garment
Palagi: White people