Necrology of Notable Iowans...

Roy L. Sours, 78, former representative and official with the Iowa Department of Agriculture, died in Charles City, Iowa, December 15, 1961.

Dr. Raymond J. Chadwick, 55, president of Iowa Wesleyan College, died in New York, New York, November 8, 1961.

J. N. "Ding" Darling, 85, famed Iowa cartoonist and leader in the battle for conservation of natural resources, died in Des Moines, Iowa, February 12, 1962.

John P. Street, 86, former official of the Iowa Department of Public Instruction, director of public junior colleges and superintendent of several Iowa communities, died January 4, 1962, in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Dr. Roscoe Volland, 84, Iowa City dentist and past president of the American Dental Association, died January 6, 1962, in Iowa City.

F. A. Turner, 61, Corning businessman and former state senator, died January 12, 1962, in Corning.

Frank Halpin, 64, former district director of internal revenue, died in Des Moines, Iowa, January 13, 1962.

Dr. Charles A. Anderson, 72, historian and former president of Coe College, died January 21, 1962, in Swarthmore, Pennsylvania.

Jacob Van Zwol, 68, former state legislator and editor of the Paullina Times weekly died February 9, 1962, in Paullina, Iowa.

Dr. Charles Murray, 85, dean emeritus of the Iowa State University College of Veterinary Medicine, died January 21, 1962, in Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Elijah F. Beard, 77, past president of the Farm Bureau, died January 26, 1962, in Centerville, Iowa.

Seth Thomas, 88, retired judge of the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, died February 2, 1962, in Sioux City, Iowa.
